

I am a current amateur radio operator, KD5IFA. I just wanted to comment that I believe the morse requirement should be dropped to operate on HF bands. I think this will encourage more operators to become proficient on these bands. I think that morse code is still a viable mode of operation but it should not be required to operate on HF.